Finn in Poor Health.

BEAUMONT, Tex. May 13.—Mike Finn today resigned as manager of the Beaument (Texas League) club, giving ill health as the reason. Finn is now at his home in Little Rock. Ark. After a few days' rest he expects to resume work as scout for the Detroit Ameri-

Middles Thought to Have Chance to Win Famous Child's Cup for Eights.

PHILADELPHIA, May 13.-Cloudy eather greeted the host of oarsmen from Eastern colleges and clubs that will struggle over the official 1 mile and 56 yard course of the Schuylkill river this afternoon for the trophy cups in the American Henley regatta. Coach Rice, of Columbia, smiled cheerfully when he took note of the slight wind which rippied the river. He has made the statement that the rougher the water the better the work his eight will do.

Experts who have followed the fortunes of the crows and observed their trial spins here are not predicting the outcome of the Childs' Cup race, the teature event of the program, in which Princeton, Columbia, Navy, and Penn meet. As the dark horse, Columbia is given the edge in some quarters and in others the Quaker crew is the Tavorite. Navy also has a chance.

The junior collegiate eight-oared race will receive unusual attention this year in which eight crews will compete for the Ngw England Cup. Because the race will be rowed in heats and all the crews appear to be evenly matched, the outcome will be considered important. junior collegiate eight

Joe Turner Winner From Young Sampson

Joe Turner had little difficulty dis posing of Young Sampson in their wrestnight. Thirteen and eight minutes, respectively, were required for the local boy to win his two falls.

Young Sampson recently won a middleweight elimination tournament ling match at the Lyceum Theater last middleweight elimination tournament held here, and for this reason much attention was attracted to the event at

College Athletes Get Final Tests on Track

Those Who Will Contest for Intercollegiate Honors Will Appear in Dual Meets Today—Yale Tackles Harvard in the Stadium.

Candidates for intercollegiate track and field championship honors will have their last public tests today before the titular contest at the Harvard stadium. Cambridge, on May 26 and 27. The annual clash between the athletes of Yale and Harvard, scheduled at Cambridge, is the most important feature of this afternoon, and its outcome will afford a good prospectus on the possibilities of either team being runners-up to Cornell in the championships.

The Ithasans will oppose Penn's banged-up team at Philadelphia, and owing to the weakness of Dr. Orton's squad, it would not be surprising if Cornell tripled the Quakers' score. Princeton meets the University of Virginia at Home, and Bernic Wefers will take his Columbia track men to Annapolis.

Despite the fact that Penn has little or no chance against Cornell, the most interesting athletic news may come out of Philadelphia this afternoon for Ted Meredith, Penn's captain, will make another effort to crack his own world's record for the half mile. In the Olympic The Columbia Country Club tennis team will meet the Departmental League racketers in the second round match of the Washington Tennis Association circuit. The other match of this round, between Chevy Chase and Dumbarton, was played off Wednesday at Chevy Chase, the Georgetown players taking eight out of the nine matches. Instead of the usual order of play on the Departmental team, Lou Doyle, No I, will play in No. 2 today, giving H. W. Barber an opportunity to meet Con-

in Kentucky Derby.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 13.-Although cool weather prevailed, the largest crowd that ever witnesed the annual turf classic, the Kentucky Derby, was expected at Churchill Downs this after expected at Churchill Downs this afternoon, when the starter's gong clangs.
There were twelve entries for the fortysecond renewal of the historic event for three-year-olds at a mile and a quarter to fight for the $15,000 purse.

This is the Derby field: Dominant (McDermott), Thunderer (J. Notter), Star Hawk (M. Garner), The Cock (W.
Lilley), George Smith (J. Loftus), St.
Laidore (Mink), Franklin (F. Murphy), Dodge (G. Garner), Lena Missa (Du-

Isidore (Mink), Franklin (F. Murphy), Dodge (G. Garner), Lena Missa (Dugan), Bulse (R. Goose), Kinney (L. Gentry), Huffaker (E. Martin).
Gov. A. O. Stanley will witness the race from the judges' stand and decorate the winning jockey and his mount with wreaths of roses.
Star Hawk and The Cock are English performers, owned by A. K. McComber. The former will probably go to the post a pari-mutuel favorite, 2 to championships, taking three out of four sets.

Throckmorton's victory was a fitting climax to his whirlwind trip through the South. At his recent appearance in Washington, in the Chevy Chase spring tournament, when he came through to the title in sensational form, Throckmorton displayed a brand of tennis that brought forth the prediction that brought forth the prediction that the yourgeters was one of the coming racketers of the country.

One of the factors in the collegian's success which most impressed local followers of the game was his almost inexhaustible stamina on the court. It was in all probability this staying power that operated strongly in his defeat of the older Pell.

Should Pell have come through successfully to the title in yesterday's match, he would have earned permanent possession of the trophy, on which he had two logs.

J. B. Beadle, title holder, yesterday successfully came through his second round match in the annual spring closed tournament of the Home Club. Beadle appears to be in excellent form, and is counted on a sa probable finalist. to the post a pari-mutuel favorite, 2 to 1, although H. P. Whitney's entry, Dominant and Thunderer, are well favored. George Smith, owned by J. Sanford, may be second choice at about 13 to 5.

NINETEEN ROOTERS KICK AGAINST CLUB

Claim That 50 Cents Is Enough for Grandstand Seats at Ball Park.

Nineteen undersigned fans today register their complaints against conditions at the Georgie avenue ball park, as the following letter to the editor of The Times shows:

"Washington, D. C., May 11, 1916. "2116 P street northwest. "I read with interest your article in the Noon Times whereby the Washing-ton baseball club announces a new scale of prices for the "Man who can afford What difference does this macran imity on the part of the ball club make to the majority of fans. About the only advantage they will derive is that they can "mouch" a little further down, and all that it will mean to the ball club is that the vacant seats instead of being in the second and third rows, will be shoved back to the rear. One tffing is sure—they won't get out enough additional fans to make up the difference in what they will lose by reducing the admission of those that can afford $1.00 and $1.25 easier than the 50 and 75 cent fan can a quarter.

for the past year, and they all feel that for the past year, and they all feel that they are entitled to a grandstand seat for 50 cents, and every one of them claim that they would go out from two to three times as often as they now do, if they could get a comfortable seat for 50 cents. If this is true then my contention is that the ball club would be benefiting themselves as well as doing the fans a favor for it surely is better to have a man go to a game twice in one week at 50 cents than to go once a week at 75 cents. Another advantage is that the larger the crowd the more pepthere is to the rooting and playing, and a person will be anxious to go if he knows that there will be a respectable crowd, instead of a lot of empty seats. I sincerely feel that the average fan would go more than twice as often if he could get a grandstand seat for 50 cents, for then he would patronize the weak visiting teams, where if he has to pay 75 cents he will prefer to work or go to a show. If he goes to a show he is assured of a comfortable cushioned seat, and also knows that he will not be held up for a program. They not only hold you up for a score card at the ball park, but I have yet to find one that is anywhere near correct.

"The ball club may contend that you they are entitled to a grandstand seat
